Bees are insects related to wasps and ants. They live all over the world except Antarctica. There are more than 20,000 species, or types, of bees. The best-known kinds are honeybees and bumblebees. People have kept honeybees for their honey for at least 4000 years. Honeybees also produce beeswax, which people use to make candles.

Bees are special insects because they can fly! They can move through the air like an aircraft! They use their wings to fly. Bees can fly fast and slow. They can fly up and down. Bees get all their food from flowers. This food consists of sweet liquid called nectar and a dust like substance called pollen.

Most bees are black, often with yellow or brown markings. Bees can be also in yellow, red and orange colours. Most kinds of bees live in small families. But some bees work and live together in large, organized groups called colonies. These social bees include honeybees and some bumblebees.

All bees have three main parts. They have a head, a body and a stinger. The stinger is used to defend against enemies. Female bees have a stinger. Male bees cannot sting.
